Enrollment

THIS PAGE INCLUDES:

On this page, enter the number of candidates for an initial teaching credential who are enrolled in the initial teacher preparation programs within your institution of higher education (IHE) or organization. Do not report on the total number of students enrolled in the entire IHE. Do not include individuals who currently hold a teaching credential and are seeking additional licenses or endorsements, or individuals preparing for school-based careers other than classroom teachers (e.g., administrators, guidance counselors).

The Department recognizes that in many cases, candidates voluntarily report their race/ethnicity and gender data, and that in some cases, candidates may choose not to report this information. Please report on the race/ethnicity data you have available, though the data may not be complete. It is not expected that the sum of the enrolled students reported by race/ethnicity or by gender will necessarily equal the total number of students enrolled.

If your IHE offers both traditional and alternative programs, be sure to enter the candidates enrolled in the appropriate reports. For the traditional report, provide only the candidates enrolled in traditional programs within the IHE. For the alternative report, provide only the candidates enrolled in the alternative programs within the IHE.

After entering the enrollment data, save the page using the floating save box at the bottom of the page.

Enrollment

For the purpose of Title II reporting, an enrolled student is defined as a student who has been admitted to a teacher preparation program, but who has not completed the program during the academic year being reported. An individual who completed the program during the academic year being reported is counted as a program completer and not an enrolled student.

Provide the number of students in the teacher preparation program in the following categories. Note that you must report on the number of students by ethnicity and race separately. Individuals who are non-Hispanic/Latino will be reported in one of the race categories. Also note that individuals can belong to one or more racial groups, so the sum of the members of each racial category may not necessarily add up to the total number of students enrolled. Teachers Prepared

THIS PAGE INCLUDES:

>> Teachers Prepared by Subject Area

>> Teachers Prepared by Academic Major

On this page, enter the number of program completers by the subject area in which they were prepared to teach, and by their academic majors. Note that an individual can be counted in more than one academic major and subject area. For example, if an individual is prepared to teach Elementary Education and Mathematics, that individual should be counted in both subject areas. If no individuals were prepared in a particular academic major or subject area, you may leave the cell blank. Please use the "Other" category sparingly, if there is no similar subject area or academic major listed. In these cases, you should use the text box to describe the subject area(s) and/or the academic major(s) counted in the "Other" category.

If your IHE offers both traditional and alternative programs, be sure to enter the program completers in the appropriate reports. For the traditional report, provide only the program completers in traditional programs within the IHE. For the alternative report, provide only the program completers for the alternative programs within the IHE.

After entering the teachers prepared data, save the page using the floating save box at the bottom of the page.

Teachers Prepared by Subject Area

Please provide the number of teachers prepared by subject area for academic year 2017-18. For the purposes of this section, number prepared means the number of program completers. "Subject area" refers to the subject area(s) an individual has been prepared to teach. An individual can be counted in more than one subject area. If no individuals were prepared in a particular subject area, please leave that cell blank. (§205\(b\)\(1\)\(H\))

Please provide the number of teachers prepared by academic major for academic year 2017-18. For the purposes of this section, number prepared means the number of program completers. "Academic major" refers to the actual major(s) declared by the program completer. An individual can be counted in more than one academic major. If no individuals were prepared in a particular academic major, please leave that cell blank. (§205\(b\)\(1\)\(H\))

Please note that the list of majors includes several "Teacher Education" majors, as well as several noneducation majors. Please use care in entering your majors to ensure education-specific majors and non-education majors are counted correctly. For example, if an individual majored in Chemistry, that individual should be counted in the "Chemistry" academic major category rather than the "Teacher Education–Chemistry" category.

Program Completers

On this page, enter the total number of individuals who completed the program in AY 2017-18 and the two prior academic years. If you submitted an IPRC last year, the number of program completers for the two prior academic years are pre-loaded from your prior year's report.

A program completer is a person who has met all the requirements of a state-approved teacher preparation program. Program completers include all those who are documented as having met such requirements. Documentation may take the form of a degree, institutional certificate, program credential, transcript or other written proof of having met the program's requirements. In applying this definition, the fact that an individual has or has not been recommended to the state for initial certification or licensure may not be used as a criterion for determining who is a program completer.

An individual cannot be classified as both enrolled and as a program completer at the same time. An enrolled individual is not a program completer. Once an individual has met all the requirements of a state-approved teacher preparation program and becomes a program completer, the individual is no longer classified as enrolled.

After entering the program completers, save the page using the floating save box at the bottom of the page.

Students in the alternative licensure program are placed full-time in their own classroom and are able to apply the strategies and methods related to working with diverse learners on a daily basis and reflect upon and adjust their pedagogical approach in consultation with their current instructors, supervisor, and advisor. A large portion of schools in New Mexico serve limited English proficient students, and by way of their contract they have when they begin the program, they are most likely serving a primarily Hispanic population. We offer them supports to teach and reach these students in class, encouraging them to bring their daily classroom experiences to discussions.

Include a description of the evidence your program uses to show that it prepares teachers to use the principles of universal design for learning, as applicable. Include planning activities and a timeline if any of the four elements listed above are not currently in place.

Alternative Licensure candidates take an Educational Technology course like traditional students. One area in particular where we have used several sources of data to help direct program changes is in how we prepare our teacher candidates to integrate technology into their instruction and assessment. Based on feedback from completer and employer surveys and student teaching assessments, it is clear that we need to better prepare our candidates to use technology effectively, and a key way we have begun to address this is in the EDLT 368 course, Integrating Technology with Teaching, that all teacher candidates have to take. Core faculty who teach this class have already implemented or are planning to implement the following changes to the course: 1) Working with teacher candidates to implement: a) class norms and expectations in the use of technology, b) community building in the area of technology, c) introduction to TPACK (Technological Pedagogical Content Knowledge), and d) starting their Teacher Toolkits with Google and Google Classroom. (Note: Implemented in Spring 2018) 2) Integrating the new STEM Tech Center at NMSU that houses flight simulators, VR goggles, and a computer lab with a mission-focused curriculum. (Note: Implemented in Spring 2018) 3) Introducing the concepts of Digital Citizenship, Ethics, Cyberbullying – including: a) interactive slideshare about the topic and b) research about personal learning network (PLN) development. (Note: Implemented in Spring 2018) 4) For integrating the new media concepts of Social Media and PLN Development, we have utilized: a) team activities with social media and b) developing and reflecting on PLN. (Note: Implemented in Spring 2018, see Twitter search and #EDLT368) 5) We are reinvigorating how we train teachers to use games and apps, particularly by having our teacher candidates: a) play and deconstruct games and apps for education, b) research pedagogical perspectives of Game-Based Learning, gamification, and gameful learning, and c) wireframe (design) Marvel games. (Note: We plan to implement this in Fall 2018 with an expert in educational games helping to finalize the plan) 6) We are also well aware the coding is an important area of technology and that students are now introduced to this skill at a very young age. We are looking into tools like the MIT created Scratch and Alice, a digital storytelling platform. (Note: Planned for Spring 2019 implementation) 7) Integrating another important new technology, maker labs, has also been a part of our revised technology training for teacher candidates. In particular, use of Cyber/Maker Learning - which includes Discovery Labs for cyberlearning and makerspaces such as circuits, robotics, 3D printing, basic coding, and more STEM Tech Center, are being used when we revisit previous concepts that have been covered in addition to new content. We are working with the teacher candidates to demonstrate how to use the Makerspace in the delivery of the school curriculum and will also use a project based approach to this delivery. (Note: Implemented in Spring 2018) 8) Using podcasting and movies for learning are also being planned for upcoming semesters. This includes the analysis and creation of podcasts as a midpoint assessment and making short movies. (Note: This was partially implemented in Spring 2018 using Flipgrid with the Makerspaces module, which is a video discussion board, and we are planning to implement podcasts in Fall 2018) 9) We are also creating a Knowledge Center, which is in the early works but will be a module with co-created activities and resources for topics such as classroom leadership, i.e. Bellwork, class newsletters, contracts, technology evaluations, etc. (Note: Implemented in Spring 2018) 10) As we implement these new strategies, we will also have our teacher candidates: 1) discuss and reflect on their experiences, and 2) design individualized curriculum materials to add to their Google Classrooms per recommended strategies from Tondeur, et al. (2017). Secondary Education is also changing their portfolios for candidates from fully hard copy to fully online, which will help students access their materials and assessments after graduation for their own reference and to provide to possible employers to demonstrate their training and preparation in key areas.

Include planning activities and a timeline if any of the three elements listed above are not currently in place.

The courses identified below provide training for alternative licensure teachers who will be participating in Individualized Education Program teams as teachers. SPED 500 has a large section of its course instruction based on IDEA, including its history and requirements and the complete IEP process, including team roles and membership. All of the coursework designed for the alternative licensure process includes the expectation that candidates will be working with many students who are learning English. Methods are provided throughout the coursework to meet the needs of English Language Learners who also receive special education services. Include planning activities and a timeline if any of the three elements listed above are not currently in place.

See above. The special education licensure is a dual-licensure program such that students receive both elementary education and special education licensure and complete all required practica and field experience specific to each licensure area. We also integrate working with diverse populations into several courses. Additionally, alternative licensure candidates take a course in multicultural Education, which addresses community, equity and diversity, with the following specific goals:

- Understand the competing definitions, conceptions, and trends of Multicultural Education.
- Examine the meaning (including causes and effects) of racism, sexism, and other forms of bias and explore one's own personal response to these forms of bias.
- Evaluate the multiple models of multicultural education and their resulting implications for curriculum, instruction and educational policy.
- Comprehend the influence on learning of such social identities as race, class, sexual orientation, language, and gender and to understand how discrimination based on these factors translates into school structures, policies and practices that perpetuate inequity.
- Recognize the structural and discursive (language) forces that hamper particular students' educational attainment and reinforce different opportunities within educational institutions.
- Develop sound philosophical rationale for multicultural education and critically examine the role of multicultural education in school reform and social change.
- Conceptualize, creatively and reflectively, a teaching perspective and school level strategies targeted towards a more just and equitable education.
